

SEMI-WEEKLY INTERIOR JOURNAL.

VOL. XVIII.

STANFORD, KY., TUESDAY, JULY 22, 1890.

NO. 41

CRAB ORCHARD.

—After deliberating with his friends, Mr. John Anderson has decided to become a candidate for constable in this precinct. He will make a good officer.

—The republicans in this precinct will probably organize a league or club to furnish a delegate to the convention, which meets at Lexington, July 28th.

—Mr. F. Arthur Zeller left Monday for Nashville, Ind., where he and his cousin, Mr. John U. Lennick, have purchased a splendid stock of drugs and opened up a new drug store. Mr. Zeller was one of our best and most progressive young men, popular with everybody and especially with young society folks among whom he was a star of the first magnitude. Nashville gains a good citizen and we wish him the best of the trade, and as many friends there as he has left behind him here.

—This week Mr. H. P. King, accompanied by Mr. Perry White, went to Lexington and brought home his brother, Mr. Geo. H. King, who has been confined in the asylum there for the past two years. The not completely restored, his mind seems to be less cloudy and his reason less unsteady. It is hoped that the change, the surroundings and associations here will work a complete cure for his derangement. He is with his family on Springs avenue.

—Mr. T. N. Roberts, the Interior Journal's clever and capable Danville correspondent, on his return from Rockcastle, stopped off here Friday to attend the ball and have a social chat with his old friend, R. Lee Davis. "Tom" is the same genial fellow as of yore, and though admonished by all that is high and holy to be home, we were forced to say that he still "catches on" among the girls and even now is "away up in the tall" talking love to his pretty a daisy as ever soothed with looks and smiles a bachelor's savage breast. Bro. Robert, please copy.

—We have in the days of our pilgrimage upon the earth, which the good Lord has seen fit to attenuate, been in diverse towns, but this, our own dear town, beats all we ever saw for promiscuous, or "lemonading on the doornail" as the duds put it. As soon as the twilight throws its mellow and indistinct glimmer over all the walks, avenues and croqueted nooks in and about town become a sort of Parisian Eden, where multitudinous spirits that no man can number, walk and talk, chatter and chuckle, thrum and thump until far into the night. "And it is a sight" said a stranger to us the other evening. "Tom Moore would never have written of the Pen's Paradise had he once come here." Of course all this looks odd to a visitor, but we who live in Rome see but as Romans see.

—Tim Bachman, the only negro here who ever degraded his caste by voting the democratic ticket, is in his "gone to the calaboose." Tim is one of those who believe in thriving "by hook or crook." Last week, while perambulating about his property a dead sheep lying close to the railroad, which doubtless had been killed by some passing train, and Tim, with an eye to business, concluded that he would attend his neighbors "up on Park" a chance to roach a mess of fresh mutton. Stylish and stealthy, like Jacob of old, he prepared the savory meat, and peddled it around among his "mongry" tribe. They did buy and did eat and were filled, and Tim pocketed a few extra dimes for that night's drink. Tim felt great. He was feeling so when "Morg" Middleton, another one of Ham's descendants, met him. Morg had eaten of the aforesaid Tim's savory flesh, and having heard a while afterwards where Tim had got it, felt a nausea in his stomach and malice preposse in his heart. Morg accused Timothy of lurching and selling "spilt" meat, and Tim, not accustomed to having his honorable name splashed with such a heinous charge, resented by drawing his "hook-bill" and letting Morg's blood. Tim was arrested for the hundredth time, carried before the police court and fined $50 and given 25 days in jail. He is occupying quarters in the jail barracks at Stanford.

—Mr. Peyton King has removed his family to Barboursville, where he has taken several large contracts for house-painting. Messrs. Joe and W. A. Brooks were here this week to see their mother and sister. Mrs. Mary Douglas, of Danville, and Mrs. Sofia Carson, of Louisville, are the guests of Mrs. H. B. Farris. Mr. and Mrs. Markwell, of Danville, who have been stopping at Mrs. Mary Garrett's, have returned home. Mrs. J. J. Carson, of New Albany, Ind., and Mrs. J. T. Carson and daughter, of Louisville, are here to spend a portion of the summer with Mrs. Brooks. Misses Alice Chestnut and Maude Pope, two pretty Danville belles, arrived Saturday to visit Mrs. J. H. Hutelings. Mr. Elb Higgins is here for a few days to the joy of his mother and his sweetest girl. Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Curtis drove over to Somerset Friday to spend a week with relatives. Miss Annie Hopper of Louisville, is spending her vacation at the Harris House. Her brother, Mr. Lee Hopper, and aunt, Miss Sue Hopper, will also be guests there this week. Mrs.

Malinda Ross is visiting the family of Mr. Chris McCune, in Kirksville. Mrs. Jack Conner, of Turnersville, spent a portion of last week with Mrs. Curtislover. Mr. Willie M. Myers, of Spanglers Hard* were house, St. Louis, after a month's pleasant stay with relatives here, returned home the 15th.

—Mrs. Mable Jones has been appointed postmaster at Kirksville, Madison county, and Mary A. Eads at Eadsburg, in Wayne.

—At Peoria, Ill., a woman got worked up into such a passion while quarreling with her son-in-law that her heart stopped short never to go again.

—Major Thomas W. Boswell died at Richmond, Va., last week. He was the oldest uniform in the United States and his stock farm at Battlefield, in Hanover, one of the most noted in the country.

—At present there is no continuous line of railroad across the continent, but the Northern Pacific and the Baltimore & Ohio have joined hands and soon there will be an unbroken line from ocean to ocean.

—The Natural Bridge property has been sold to a Massachusetts and Virginia syndicate for $200,000. It was purchased from Col. H. C. Parsons and Hon. James O. Blaine, who have owned it for a number of years.

—Superintendent Porter has put on a night force at the Census Bureau in order to complete the count of the country's population earlier than was anticipated. The daily count from this on will average two millions.

—The Louisville & Nashville has opened an independent line to Knoxville via Middleboro for both freight and passenger business. The L. & N. has heretofore operated over the L. T. V. & O. road, between Jellico and Knoxville.

—Republicans in Kentucky have decided to allow only four days for the consideration of the Dignity Package and the Bankruptcy bills, thus practically shutting off debate on two of the most important measures before Congress.

—During a political discussion at Walton Lake, Washington county Friday, Norton Hardin, republican, shot and killed John Hayden, democrat. Both men were prominent citizens and conspicuous in the politics of that section.

—Congressman James P. Walker, of the 14th Missouri district, who went home a few days ago to look after his political campaign, died in Dexter, Mo., of congestion of the brain. This makes the 10th death in Congress since the election in 1888.

—James Moran, conductor, G. H. McKellan and George Hanson, brakemen on the C. S., were horribly mangled at Nashville. They were under the trucks repairing a draw-bar, when the engineer, James Smith, backed his engine into the train, causing the trucks to run over the three men, all of whom will probably die.

—It is now stated that the young society swell, Sheppard White, who was arrested while in Kentucky to see Senator Blackburn's daughter and others of the hon ton, is the son of a negro washer woman in Baltimore. His arrest has created a great sensation for he was a high dandy and counted his conquests by the 100s.

—Near Peach Orchard, Ark., a young man named Sturms accused a woman named Pitt of going into his trunk. The woman and a friend named V. Timms, went to the house of Sturms to chastise him, and in the quarrel Timms struck Sturms' old mother. Sturms shot and killed Timms with a Winchester rifle and killed the woman with a shotgun.

—The K. C. oil-house at Paris was destroyed by fire Saturday.

—Dan McCarty cut John and Curtis Moore at Louisville so badly that they will die.

—A collision between the Shortles and Messers at Hubbard's Mill, Knox county, resulted in the killing of four men.

—A cyclone Saturday destroyed two business blocks and several other buildings at Paducah Junction, La. One man was killed.

—James P. Spillars, raised the Harrodsburg saying to W. L. and L. L. Martin, who will change it to a deuce etante sheet.

—It is pleasing to note that Johnstown, Penn., has more inhabitants today than she had at the time of her famous and fatal flood.

—An electrical storm, accompanied by heavy rain, passed over New Orleans and its suburbs Sunday, and two men were instantly killed and a third family injured by lightning bolts.

—The Everson does a remarkable thing in coming to the front by crossing the continent on an exploring expedition with Lewis and Clark. They trampled him in a baby buggy no doubt.

—The Motion is playing in wretched luck lately. A half dozen weeks have occurred Sunday the north-bound train ran over a cow near Lemox, overturning the engine and killing Eugene W. Stroppe, of Indianapolis.

—The Polytectonic building fronting 275 feet on Fourth avenue, Louisville, has been purchased by a syndicate for $125,000 and on the site a story building, made up of theatre, hotel and store, will be erected at a cost of not less than $500,000.

—Recent alliance victories in the Georgia Congressional districts at county primaries indicate that there will be a general reconstruction of the State delegation at Washington. Only Messrs. Turner and Crisp have a sure thing of going back for another term.

—Six of the renegade Apache prisoners, who were implicated in the murder of Sheriff Reynolds and his deputy, have been hunted down by troops and killed. Soldiers are on a hot trail after the other three, one of whom was the leader of the murderous gang.

—The Cheyenne and Arapahoe Indians have agreed to hold land in severalty, 100 acres to each man, woman and child, and to cede the remainder, over 5,000,000 acres, to the government for the sum of $1,500,000, cash, the remainder to be held in trust, drawing 5 per cent interest.

—There are four candidates for delegate to the constitutional convention in Mercer. Dr. James H. Moore, regular democratic nominee; Judge J. M. Telford, republican nominee; Hon. D. J. Curry, joint nominee of the prohibitionists and republicans; and C. Terhune, independent democratic candidate.

GREEN-BRIAR AND DRIPPING SPRINGS

Hotel KATYDIE.
—The Editor of the Interior Journal.
—Our house has been crowded for the last week, every available space, hotel buildings, cottages and parlors being filled with boarders. Some will leave today who are here for only a two-weeks' stay, and many who came for a month will leave between the 1st and 5th of August, this will give us room for new arrivals. On Saturday we had 18 new arrivals and not a room vacant, still by a little hustling and doubling we stored them all away and had room for more.

—The report has gone out that our house is not finished and that our guests have to stay out in the halls, corridors, &c. This is all false, every room on the place is finished, furnished, carpeted and occupied. Then again it has been reported by interested parties that this is the hottest place in the world and that our water gave out on the 14th and we had to haul from the Old Dripping. Did any one ever hear such lies. One of our springs has a basin which contains 400 gallons and another 100 gallons. On the 4th there were 700 or 800 people here and at night both basins were just as full as they were in the morning, in fact all the water was caught from the spouts and the basins were not touched. As to the heat, there have been no nights here this summer warm enough to sleep from under cover and with windows open and it is so cool in the day time that many of our guests want fire.

—Notwithstanding all these false reports our house is filled up and everybody delighted and having a happy time and plenty to come as soon as these leave.
Respt., H. C. SLAGTER.

Democratic Convention.
—In compliance with a call of the district committee the democrats of Lincoln county are requested to meet at the court-house in Stanford, Wednesday, July 30, at 2 P. M., for the purpose of electing delegates to the district convention, to be held at Lawrenceburg Aug. 7, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Congress in this, the Eighth district.

CHURCH AFFAIRS.

—Louisville has 134 churches, equal to a worshipping place for every 1,300 of its inhabitants.

—Rev. S. M. Cook, who has done missionary work on the Park Continent before, will leave the first of next month for Lagos in the Yoruba country, Africa, to be gone at least two years. He is sent by the churches in Central Kentucky and not by the general missionary society of the Christian Church.

—The dedication of the new M. E. church will not take place until the first Sunday in August on account of the failure of the news to arrive in time. Dr. W. A. Robinson, pastor Union church, Covington, will preach the dedicatory sermon, and Dr. Daniel H. Moore, editor of the Western Christian Advocate, will preach that night.—Somerset Republican.

—Bro. M. B. Williams, the Georgia Evangelist, began a union revival at the Presbyterian church Sunday. He is a very pleasing speaker and all who have heard him were much taken with his powerful, though plain and simple presentation of gospel truths. He is not an ordained minister, but is an eloquent and earnest worker in the field he seems especially fitted for. Services will be held in the various churches in town twice daily—10:30 A. M. and 8 P. M. The Christians are praying for a glorious revival and the prospect for one is very true.

FARM AND TRADE ITEMS.

—E. T. Pence bought of T. J. Hill 70 ewes at $1.

—J. M. Hail bought of J. L. Thompson, of Pulaski, 100 ewes at $5.00.

—For SALE.—300 stock ewes and 300 wethers. Giveys & Carter, Moreland.

—Strong-bones bull calves and Poland China pigs for sale. Both thoroughbred and superior individuals. J. M. VanMeter, Danville.

—Kansas farmers are marketing their hogs. Their prospect for corn is growing worse and they fear they will not have enough for feed.

—A Winchester dispatch says the first sale of big cattle of the season was made there last week, a lot of 1,500 pound cattle being sold at $1.45.

—The Lexington Fair will be held Aug. 26 and the four following days. President G. A. Dripping writes that he insures a pleasant and attractive entertainment to all who attend.

—Secretary John M. Myer has our thanks for a complimentary to the Danville Fair which will be held Aug. 5 & 6. He says that the prospect for a highly successful exhibition was never better.

—Hon. J. L. Bruce made an average of 19 bushels of wheat on 40 acres of land and sold it at 78 cts. D. N. Frewitt bought at A. V. Whitley 120 stock ewes at 5 cts; of J. L. Bruce $1 at $3.30 per head; of F. B. Bright $1 head at 5 cts.—Advocate.

—There seems to be no doubt that Hankins had Santaline pulled. The statement that he had $3,500 on him turns out to be false. On the contrary he was letting on. Consequently Hankins is in disgrace in Chicago and, as the Times says, when a turban is in disgrace there he is very low down.

—A Butler county, Kansas, farmer last September bought 100 steers, paying for the lot $2,750. He fed them all the cheap corn they would eat through the winter, and in March sold the bunch for $9,980. He fed 7,000 bushels of corn to the steers, 70 bushels a head. The market price of the corn at that place was about 13 cents per bushel, but by making a home market for his corn it brought him 60 cents a bushel.

—There is a sorry outlook indeed for tobacco in this end of the State, says the Henderson Journal. The dark tobacco belt is certainly in a serious condition. Indications are that in Henderson county there will be less than half a crop with favorable seasons from this on, and should the drought continue a short time longer there will be no crops at all. The remainder of the steaming district is in no wise better off than this section. Tobaccoists who bought largely last year are congratulating themselves, while farmers are correspondingly blue.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For Superior Judge, JOSEPH BARBOUR.
 " Appellate Clerk, W. W. LONGMOOR.
 " County Judge, THOMAS W. VARNON.
 " County Attorney, JOSEPH B. PANTON.
 " County Clerk, GEORGE R. COOPER.
 " Sheriff, J. N. MENEFEE.
 " Jailor, SAMUEL M. OWENS.
 " Assessor, E. D. KENNEDY.
 " Sup't of Common Schools, W. F. CLARY.
 " Surveyor, HARRY A. EVANS.
 " Coroner, ARCH CARSON.

THE democrats have presented to the people of Lincoln county an exceptionally good and clean ticket. They are all worthy men and most of them have been tried and not found wanting. The prohibitionists want to beat some of them, however, and have accordingly nominated a partial ticket, hoping that their action may lead the republicans to do likewise and thus jeopardize the success of the four gentlemen who have been specially marked with their disfavor. There is no partial prohibition in the county, as impractical and bigoted as many of them are, who think there is a scintilla of a chance for their so-called ticket to be elected. It cannot be under any state of case. Their object, therefore, is one of spite and rebuke towards the democratic party, which we call upon the democrats of the county to resent in no uncertain way. Let every man go to work for our ticket and show the fanatics, who are bent on endangering the life of the party, that Lincoln county is true to her principles and traditions. The election is less than two weeks off. The fight must be short and sharp and the result so decisive that we shall have no more of the so-called prohibition party in this county.

ANOTHER so-called fire-proof building has demonstrated that such establishments are a delusion and a snare. The magnificent Western Union Telegraph building at New York caught fire from the electric wires and was damaged to the amount of $150,000. Fortunately the employees escaped with their lives, but it was a close call. The Western Associated Press and other concerns that did business in the building also suffered severely.

THE politicians were not able to overcome the great strength of the farmers' candidate for governor of Tennessee and Breckner was nominated by the democratic convention on the 26th ballot, the other candidates withdrawing when satisfied of the inevitable result. The nominee has served three times in the Legislature and is said to be a capable and excellent man. He has always followed farming as an occupation.

Gov. BRECKNER has helped the State out of a financial rut again, but not with his own money this time. The Courier-Journal says he has induced the Frankfort banks to allow 3 per cent. interest on State deposits up to $200,000 and 25 percent. for deposits over that amount. At the same time banks agree to pay State warrants, when the deficiency arises, charging 5 per cent. interest on advances.

There is a very interesting story, in a political sense, about concerning Hon. Matt Adams' recent visit to Knox county.—Louisville Times. Yes, and the gentleman owes it to the democracy to deny it, if as we believe, it is untrue. Col. Adams is not doing himself any good by his studied silence in the midst of the charges that he is slinking and encouraging his friends to do likewise.

The announcement that Dr. Kelley had declined the prohibition nomination for governor of Tennessee turns out to have had a string to it. The "party" refused to accept the declination, so the doctor gives up his allegiance to the Church to chase the will-o'-the-wisp of politics and wait for a time in its mire.

THE republicans have stolen two more seats from democratic congressmen in order to increase the power of their mob. Goodrich gets Bullock's seat in the Florida contest and McInnis that of Alderson in West Virginia. There is no justice, of course, in the business and might even does not make it right.

HIS old comrades hereabouts, who hold him in remembrance, will be glad to know that Maj. W. G. Bullitt has been nominated by the democrats for delegate to the constitutional convention from McCracken county. He was major in Col. Grigsby's regiment and greatly beloved by its officers and men.

THE Lancaster Record is authority for the statement that Col. W. O. Bradley has not the slightest idea of making the race against Gov. McCreary for Congress. The colonel is a mighty sensible as well as a monstrous clever man, and knows when he has had enough of empty honors.

OUR old friend, James W. Jones, of London, wants to represent Laurel and Rockcastle in the constitutional convention. If he is chosen there is no doubt that he will give very much "weight" to the body, which ought to be composed of giants.

Politics of Farmers.

In a strict sense the word demonstration cannot be safely predicated of any proposition unless it be a mathematical one. The creeds of churches, the maxims of war, the rules of political economy all involve and are based upon fairly disputable propositions. But no man does or can afford to rest in a state of indecision or inactivity concerning questions which daily affect his interest, because of the possibility that he may be mistaken. The best of us can do is to exercise the best judgment we have upon the best information we can obtain.

Of the various classes which go to make up the population of this country, there is none so numerous, there is none more highly important to the general welfare than the farming class. Surely farmers are the bone and sinew of the land. Mining and manufacture would perish without them. The arts of the learned professions, supplementing their great work and giving a touch of grace to their labor, draw their nourishment from them. Yet for all this they have been for 30 years more severely punished by vicious legislation than any other class of our people. It would seem that the curse of Isachar has been put upon them by the republican party—they are the ass between two burdens. Their labor supports the life of the country, their sweat pays most largely the taxes of the country. In common justice to themselves and their families they should take time to consider what a tariff is and how it is a tax. For it is both by an excess and an inequality of taxation they are made to suffer. This proposition they should start out with: that the government does not own one cent of money—every penny it has either in circulation or in its coffers has been obtained by taxation. Now there are two forms of taxation—the direct and the indirect. When the sheriffs of our counties collect taxes from the people, that is the direct form. The Legislature says there shall be so many cents on the $100 worth of property paid by each citizen to support the State government, and the people know exactly how much they pay and what they pay for. The indirect form is by means of a tariff. We do not make in this country all that we consume. All our coffee comes from abroad. Much of our sugar, all of our tinware, much of our clothing, many of our hats and shoes and a great many manufactured articles are likewise imported. Now all along the exterior boundaries of the United States the government has established ports of entry as they are called. They are to the country at large just what a toll-gate is to a turnpike road. At these ports there is an officer—a toll collector—who is required to collect toll for nearly everything a man brings from another country into this country to sell. Let us suppose it is a lot of woolen cloth, that the merchant who brings it could afford to sell for $1 a yard. But the toll collector requires him to pay for the privilege of going through his gate 50 cents on each yard. So when the foreigner comes to sell to the wholesale home merchant, he must have not only his dollar but his 50 cents, and the interest on it. The wholesale merchant sells to the retail merchant here in Stanford and charges not only what he has paid but interest upon the amount and a profit beside. The retail merchant sells to the farmer and goes through a similar process. He must have what he has paid, his interest upon the sum and then his profit. So that by the time the cloth goes to the farmer, he has paid not only the original 50 cents toll or tax, but has paid also the interest and profits of two or three other persons. Now since taxation is a necessary thing, all this is well enough, unless the right to collect tax in this way is abused. How is it abused? There are many ways, but the chief one is by collecting more at the port of entry than is necessary. It is very plain to us that if the Legislature should command the sheriff to collect 75 cents on the $100 when only 50 cents were needed that then it would be excessive taxation. The sum raised by the extra 25 cents rate would simply lie idle in the treasury at Frankfort and the people would be robbed to that extent. A natural inquiry would be, why do members of Congress make a law which will require the collectors at the ports of entry to take more toll from the importer than is necessary to pay the expenses of the government? The answer is this, and it shows how the right to impose taxes is abused by either very unwise or by very corrupt congressmen. There are many people in this country engaged in manufacturing and selling the same sort of goods which foreigners send here to sell. These home manufacturers want to make the very largest possible profit in their business. They reason this way: Here is a hat which we can make and sell with fair profit at $2, but that we may get the largest possible return we would like to have $2.50 for it, and could likely do so if it were not for these so-called importers, who will sell the same hat for $2. If we can only induce Congress to make these importers pay a tax of 50 cents on each hat they sell, although the government don't need a tax of more than 25 cents on the hat, then we can safely put our own hats on the market at $2.50, for the importers will be compelled to have their tax back or fail in business. They go to members of Congress and make their wishes known. They say that legislation of this kind is proper because it helps to build up the manufacturing interest of the country and enables them to pay better wages to laboring men. With some, this sort of poppy cock passes for an argument, while others of more sense and less principle are bought outright, and the result is a protection tariff. Now whom does this sort of tariff protect and how does it protect them? It enriches a few men. The government lends itself to the business of class legislation. It has its favorites. It says to the farmer, you are nothing but a drudge, you are a sweating, stinking hewer of wood and drawer of water. Your earnings must be taken from you for the favorites. We need a moneyed aristocracy in this country and you must contribute to make it. Manufacturers are necessary in this country and the whole power of the government is going to be exercised toward making farmers sustain them in luxury.

Do not farmers see that they are simply robbed? And what is worse, they are robbed, not for the benefit of the government, but for the benefit of the government's favorites.

The commonly accepted idea is that a government, like a father among his children, should be impartial; that it should have no favorites; that its blessings, like the dews of Heaven, should fall on all alike. But here is one under the administration of the republican party, which destroys the equality of right between its citizens, which puts one class and robs another, which is day by day imposing such burdens upon its most numerous and highly respected subjects that they cry to Heaven.

What intellectual farmer does not know that his only relief can be found in the triumph of the principles of the democratic party—a party which has always opposed excessive taxation—a party which has always opposed class legislation—a party whose polar star has been equality of right—a party whose whole history bristles with opposition to exclusive privileges?

COL. MATT ADAMS' silence is becoming painfully oppressive, not that it is necessary for the election of Mr. Longmoor that he should speak, but to show to the world the manner of man he is. There was no suspicion of slinking by Gen. Walford when Tom Henry beat him. On the contrary the old gentleman spurned all overtures made to him by the sore-heads and republicans and took the stump for the man who had downed him in convention.

THING out of five of the new pension clerks, which are to be appointed at $1,000 a year, are entitled to come from the South, but the Courier-Journal thinks that it is doubtful if so many republicans can be found in that section competent to do the work. If this country is a fair specimen, we are absolutely sure they can not. You can almost count on your fingers the republicans here who are competent to hold office.

GEN. LANSFORD has mounted the raging stump for Judge Tinsley, but that does not settle it by a long shot. The judge is going to be the worst beaten man that ever was. It's a pity, too. He is a good man and hardly deserves the severe trouncing that awaits him.

Additional Local.

THE C. & C. will sell tickets to Harrodsburg during the fair, July 28th to Aug. 1, at 15 fares for the round-trip. Trains make close connection at Bargain with the Louisville Southern.

THE trouble between the L. & N. and some of its brakemen and switchmen has been satisfactorily adjusted. The company agrees to increase the wages quite materially and to allow 15 cents an hour for delayed time over two hours. The Knoxville division men, who did not strike, also got the benefit of the increase.

A NEGRO named King, who lives at Rowland, was struck in the face and badly hurt Saturday night. He claims that he was going up the steps leading to his room when some one dealt him a severe blow on the mouth and nose. He was too scared to investigate the matter and is yet unaware of the person who hit him, although he believes it the work of a ghost.

BIDS WANTED.—The promoters of the new cut off pike, which is to do away with the danger of passing Rowland, are ready to receive bids, which may be addressed to either D. W. Vandever, J. E. Peyton or E. T. Pence, at Stanford till Aug. 15th. A meeting will be held this week, at which Mr. Pence will no doubt be chosen president. The road will be of much advantage to Stanford in other ways, besides opening up many desirable building lots.

DICTIONARIES.—We have half a dozen more Webster's Unabridged Dictionaries, which we will let off new subscribers have at $2.50 in connection with the paper. These are the last of a large lot and all that we propose to handle.

CRAB ORCHARD.—John Smith, a white miner from Pennsylvania, loaded up with mean whisky and staggered on the railroad track near Jellico. A freight train struck him and passing over his body, cut him clean in two. He was a single man, about 30 years of age.

The Louisville Legion will pass up to Middleboro tonight for a 10-day encampment and a big programme has been arranged, which includes excursions, a military ball, Wednesday night at the Middleboro Hotel, sham battle, fire works on Pinnacle Hill and a military promenade concert.

JOHN YOUNG BROWN, writer Chairman Newland that it will be impossible for him to speak in Stanford today. The appointment was made by Gen. Castleman without consultation. While Mr. Brown had advertised to speak in another part of the state, he regrets very much that he can not be with us, but says he will try and speak here later.

WHY will in all probability prove to be a death bed marriage occurred at Rowland Sunday, when C. P. Jarman and Miss Cordelia Phelps, daughter of Larkin Phelps, were made one. The bride is very low with typhoid fever, with which disease her mother died last week, and is not expected to recover. Questioned as to why they should wish to be married under such circumstances the groom simply replied "It is just a freak of ours."

NISK.—Elder Milton Elliott, the honored principal of Elliott Institute, Kirksville, called in to see Saturday en route to an appointment to preach at Crab Orchard. Preaching once or twice every Sunday, and frequently offering, besides conducting a large school, seems to agree with him, as he is fattening right along in his work. Prof. Elliott is 53 and his wife, yet he tells as his ninth child, a girl, has just arrived, after a cessation of arrivals for four or five years. He is about as proud of her as most men are of their first born.

USE of the young gentlemen, who was there, hands us the following: Invitations were issued last Friday by Mrs. M. D. Elmore for a supper at her residence at 6 o'clock. It was attended by a fair crowd and much enjoyed by all present. Before supper Mr. Earp succeeded in getting the pictures of the party in two positions. Those present were Nannie Marrs, John B. Myers, Montie Harris, R. M. Newland, Nora B. Dickerson, Geo. B. Wearson, Ella Gray, Sam M. Menefee, Mammie Alford, A. H. Severance, Minnie Ruple, T. M. Lasky. The hour of departure was 11:35.

THE opening ball at Crab Orchard Springs Friday evening was like the many other social events of that delightful resort—exceedingly pleasant and interesting. A splendid Italian orchestra is there for the season and for the same length of time splendid music will be dispensed with a decided degree of liberality. About 100 guests are now enjoying the advantages that are to be had at the springs and these with a large representation from the surrounding towns made the ball Friday evening a brilliant affair indeed. Besides the following ladies and gentlemen from Stanford, who were there for several days, viz. Mrs. P. T. Courts, Mrs. J. W. Sweets, Misses Annie Way and Sue Hunt and Misses Jennie Hughes, of Bloomington, Ill., and Jennie Cosby, of Owensboro, who joined the party, and Messrs. Carpenter, Carson and Carson, the list of young people from here present were Misses Emma and Helen Sautley, May Helm, Fannie Pennington, and Messrs. Rount, Craig, Pennington, Walton and Walton.

Two hundred thousand first-class brick now ready for delivery. Price reasonable. H. K. Wearson.

A LETTER from Mr. John H. Robson, of Nashville, tells of the advent of a 12-pound girl, the finest on record.

CAPT. J. W. Rose, who took up the mail train yesterday, told us that a 9-lb. girl arrived at his house Sunday morning.

I will be able to accommodate all who attend the Hustonville Fair and will do so in first-class style. F. W. Green, proprietor Weatherford Hotel.

The firm of S. S. Myers and A. T. Nunnally have all of the privileges of the Hustonville Fair and have already gone thither. They paid $100 for them.

The excursion on the K. C. to Cincinnati, which ran Sunday, did not reach here on its return till 10 A. M. yesterday, when the excursionists seemed to be worn to a frazzle.

The democrats of this county will see that the little hob-tail ticket that the prohibitionists have put out to catch sore-headed suckers is buried under a tremendous majority. The third party is destined to die a burning in old Lincoln.

The Hustonville Fair begins to-day with the greater part of the forenoon devoted to the productions of the fair sex. In the afternoon jack stock, horses and mares will be awarded premiums in the aggregate of about $200. The largest premium for the second day, is $75 for the best mare or gelding in the roadster ring, while on the 3d day $150 will be hung up in the sweepstake roadster ring. The weather promises to be fine and the exhibition the best of the series.

It was reported that Dr. Cooper, of the East End, is a candidate for county judge, but an investigation proved that the report was at least premature. Dr. Cooper is a high-toned gentleman, who would not stoop to make a still-hunt race, and if he runs we are sure it will be openly and above board. A good many republicans have told us that they will not support a partial ticket and that nominations must be made for all the offices, if their support is secured.

For a party that trades on its morality and christian virtues, the prohibitionists can start more silly and uncalled for stories than any set that ever lived. They will open all their little meetings with prayer and look even more sanctimonious than the devil, when he is trying to play saint, and then go out and bear false witness against their neighbors and tell the ignorant any kind of a tale to make votes. The Pharisees of the old time were arch angels in comparison with these latter day saints, who have arisen to reform the world.

JAMES VARNON made taking speech to the Waynesburg people, Saturday, and added many votes to his cause. Mr. Ezra Roach, his prohibition opponent, though close at hand, refused to give him an audience, thereby showing that he feels the invincible attitude he has placed himself in towards the man, who not only has always been his personal and political friend, but of his father before him. Our information is that Judge Varnon will carry the Waynesburg precinct, the good people there being desirous of complimenting a faithful officer and rebuking renegades.

THE Q. & C. will sell excursion tickets to Niagara Falls at very low rates at all its component stations between Cincinnati and Chattanooga good on all regular trains arriving in Cincinnati on the evening of the 30th and morning of the 31st. Special trains on the Erie road will leave at 12 noon and 12:40 P. M. for the Falls and tickets will be good returning till Aug. 5th. Pullman sleeping and chair cars will be run and all who intend to go should confer at once with the nearest agent on the Q. & C. Stop-overs will be allowed at Lake Champlain and numerous side excursions can be made for a mere song.

GETTING SERVED.—Friday afternoon William and Andrew Benge and Willis Nailor came to town and after filling up pretty full with red-eyes, started home. When they got to the railroad crossing on the Danville pike they began to quarrel over an old trouble, when Andrew Benge hit Nailor in the mouth with a rock, cutting his lip badly and knocking out four teeth. Nailor said, "You have knocked out my teeth, now come and get the others." Andrew advanced as if to do so, when Nailor let him have it in the hip with a knife. A small artery was severed and the man bled profusely until Dr. Reid arrived and stopped the flow. Nailor came back to town and Willis Benge having reported the facts to Sheriff Newland, that officer went to arrest him. He succeeded in taking the knife from him, but he positively refused to go to jail. Mr. Newland summoned Dr. Penny to assist him, but Nailor grabbed him and tore all the buttons off his vest. Then several other men were pressed into service and after much difficulty Nailor was bound hand and foot and loaded into a hand cart and hauled to jail, followed by the large crowd that had been attracted by the row. The next day Nailor was allowed to furnish a guard for himself and his trial set for yesterday, but the Benges did not show up and the case was continued for trial to Saturday.

—Mr. James Slaughter, father of J. G. Slaughter and Mrs. James L. McKinney, died at his home near Paint Lick last week of softening of the brain.

—The democrats in the mountains declare that the statement that they will vote against Longmoo because their pet, Capt. Matt Adams, was not nominated, is all a mistake. It is more than a mistake; it is a republican campaign lie.—Louisville Post.

—A dispatch from Wichita, Kan., says that thermometers throughout the Arkansas valley stood at 104° Saturday. Hot winds, which prevailed all day, finished up the destruction of many thousands of acres of corn. A rain fall would save only the corn in the very low lands, all the other being absolutely destroyed.
